Morrison Cohen LLP Announces Steven H. Weitzen Rejoins Firm as Of Counsel
Firm Adds New Associate

New York, August 23, 2016 – Morrison Cohen LLP announced today that Steven H. Weitzen has rejoined the firm as Of Counsel in the firm’s Corporate Department.

Weitzen advises both public and private companies, financial institutions, investment banks and investors in finance, mergers and acquisitions, venture capital transactions, and securities and commercial matters. He has broad experience as a corporate and transactions attorney in private practice as well as in-house experience as general counsel.

Before joining Morrison Cohen, Weitzen was Of Counsel in Pavia & Harcourt LLP’s commercial and corporate practice group. He practiced at Morrison Cohen earlier in his career.

“Steven adds further depth to the firm’s practices,” said Bruce P. Levine, co-chair of the Commercial Lending & Finance group. “In addition to his general corporate experience, he has represented a number of lenders and borrowers throughout his career, with an emphasis on asset-based lending and mezzanine financing. Steve’s practice also includes a middle-market focus, which is an ideal fit for Morrison Cohen.”

Morrison Cohen also has added Michael Mix as an associate to its Business Litigation Department. Mix joined from Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP.

“We continue to be successful in attracting the absolute top talent as they are drawn to our model, culture and commercial approach to our practice,” Morrison Cohen Chairman David Scherl said.
